THE PETRIANIAN

OF

1948

FOR

THE

BETHANY, WEST VIRGINIA

Dedication

This 1947-48 Annual publication is concerned with the portrayal of collegiate life on a small campus. We ask, "College—What is it?"

College is many things. But the true worth of the institution will ever rest upon the shoulders of the professors who lead us down the academic corridor and open the doors to knowledge and intellectual awareness. To them, the professors of Bethany College, we dedicate this publication.

More especially, we single out a man to represent their group, Professor Emmett E. Roberts, Head of the Department of Journalism. Teacher, writer, scholar, a man well aware of and responsive to his collegiate and worldly environments, he has contributed much to Bethany College and a generation of aspirant undergraduates. This year of 1948 marks his twentieth year as a member of the Bethany faculty—twenty years of endeavor, that the question asked on the pages of this annual, "College—What is it?" shall always receive a respectful reply.

PROFESSOR E. E. ROBERTS

Forward

You are about to look at a work which in the final analysis is really an experiment, and certainly a new experience for the entire staff of this Bethanian of 1948.

For over eight months our small group has attempted to produce approximately one-hundred and forty-four pages of the history of Bethany College students in the academic year 1947-48. Although our efforts have brought forth results, the overall collection of memorabilia is an example to some degree of naivete on our behalves about publication schedules and procedures, production costs, methods of photography, etc.

However, again taken as a whole, the entire staff sincerely hopes that this issue of the Bethanian of 1948 will provide for all of you readers many future enjoyable hours of entertainment that will forever remind you of your friends, your campus activities, and above all your college.

PRESIDENT WILBUR H. CRAMBLET

We are pleased to have this opportunity to bring greetings to the students and friends of Bethany College in the year 1948. The college is moving forward in its several undertakings. Future growth of the college will be dependent upon the interest and support of those who have enjoyed the Bethany experience.

We welcome to the campus the Bethanian of 1948 with its record of the interests, activities, and accomplishments of the student body of Bethany College during the year ending in June, 1948.

The first year book of the college, known as the Meteor, was published in 1898, just fifty years ago. Except for two periods, 1900 to 1904 inclusive, and more recently 1945 to 1947, when none were published, these year books furnish a valuable record of student life at Bethany for half a century. They are read with curiosity and interest by freshmen and are referred to and treasured by alumni.

A book such as this may not give a complete answer to the question, "College—What is it?", but it furnishes a record of college friends and experiences that will become increasingly precious from year to year. It will serve to remind you of your place in the family of Bethanians and will call you to her service as you are able.

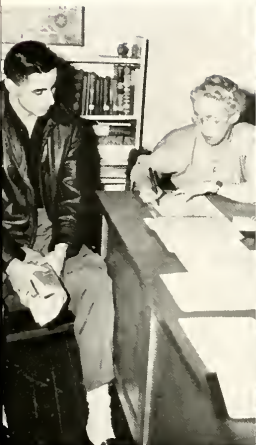

Working together we shall build Bethany into the future and come to sing to our Alma Mater with a deepening sense of purpose:

"High up on the scroll of honor and fame,
Thy sons, strong and manly, have written thy name."

College is leaving home . . .

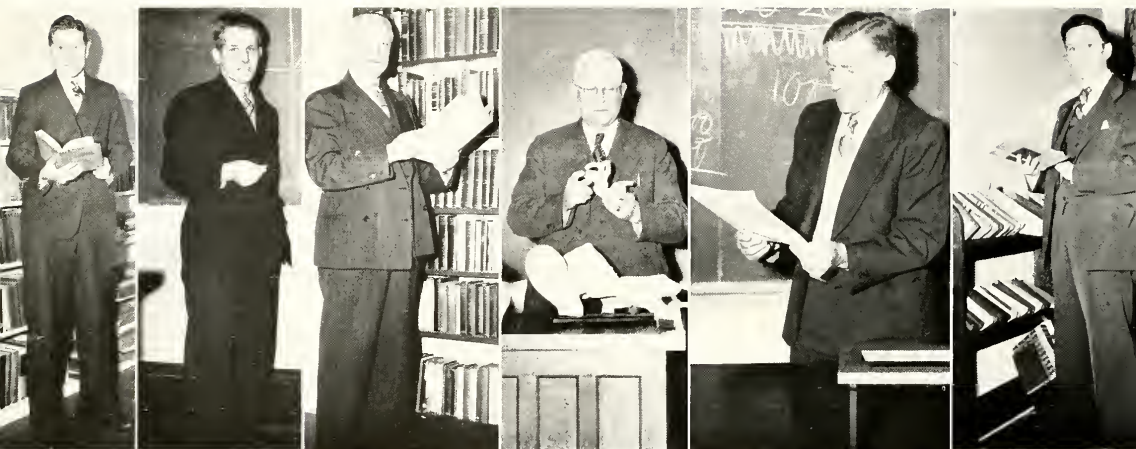

Good morning to you home,
Fare thee well to you home,
Packing your trunk home, home, home,
Saying goodbye to you home,
Goodbye to you home, home, home,

College is the faculty . . .

*The fraternity of teachers and scholars,
Some nervous and self-important,
Condescendingly polite, vaguely aloof,
Lecturing in words of four syllables,
Some giving brain-cracking exams;*

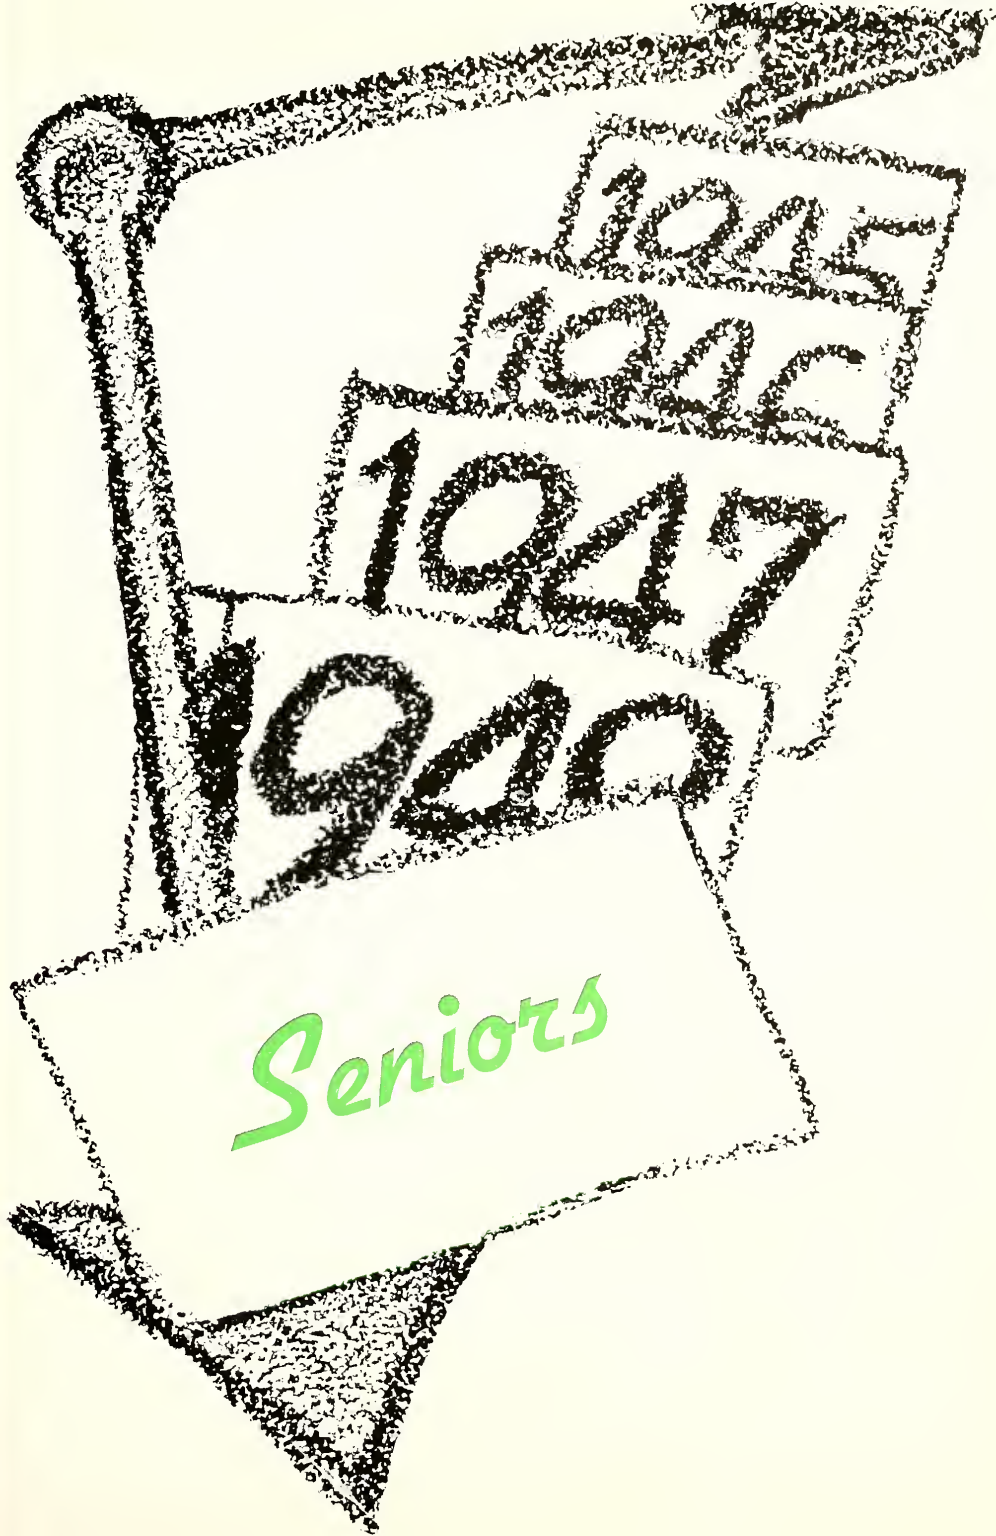

*The old professor—
 Melrose as he sat in his study, content,
 Telling the same old stories he told for years,
 Forgetting the days of the young,
 The harassed dean,
 Always a mixture of sternness and kindly counsel,
 Asking students about their parents,
 About their hobbies, their plans, and ambitions,
 Wearing bits of philosophy and Greek and Latin,
 Sometimes touching the verse of the poets,
 Poetry.*

College is academic robes

In a long line . . .

*There is a long line of academic robes
In a long line of academic robes
There is a long line of academic robes
In a long line of academic robes
There is a long line of academic robes
In a long line of academic robes*

THE CLASS OF 1948

The Great Judge of all graduates peered over the high bench, straining his owl-like eyes to view the little graduate standing bravely under the gaze.

"Name please," roared the Judge.

"Bethany Graduate of 1948," snapped back the answer in a brave tone.

"Bethany Graduate of 1948?" The Judge laughed, in fact he almost exploded with laughter. "Bethany Graduate of 1948? Hah!" Again he doubled up in mirth.

"How old are you?" he asked when his laughing had subsided.

"Pick a number from nineteen to thirty or more," candidly replied the Graduate.

Scowling down at the Graduate now, the Judge wagged a finger at the lone figure. "Don't get fresh with me, youngster. Answer the questions."

"Whatever you say."

"Now, tell me this. What is your race and sex." Then he added, "And no smart answers."

There was no answer at all.

"Well?" asked the Judge.

The Graduate looked blandly back at the Judge. "You can just about take your pick of any of them, Judge."

"Humph." The Judge snorted in disgust as he sat back and wiped his glasses. "Humph," he reiterated.

"Let's try another tack," snorted the Judge, "and mind you, now, no more of those indefinite answers."

"O.K.," answered the Graduate.

"Now then," and the Judge leaned forward over the bench. "What degree did you receive in college?"

"Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science."

"Then you received two degrees," pressed the Judge, beginning to see an end to the inquisition.

"That's not what I said," replied the Graduate. "I received about 80 of them."

"Youngster, do you realize that you are upsetting the dignity of this high court." Sitting back in his chair, the Judge mopped his brow with his handkerchief and twirled the pince-nez around in the air. Finally he stopped and leaned forward again. His voice was weaker this time.

"I suppose that it is probably futile to ask, but, try to tell me simply just where is your home."

Bethany Graduate of 1948 took the upper hand now. Leaning on the Judge's bench, and in a confidential tone, the Graduate said, "Well, Judge, it's like this. Let's not kid each other. My home is about ten or twelve different states, five or six times as many cities and towns."

The Judge sat with his head in his hands. He looked up once to stare at the graduate with a blank gaze. "You win, youngster, you win. Tell your story in your own way, but please try to tell it so I'll understand."

With the situation now in complete control, the Graduate pushed himself up on one corner of the Judge's bench and propped a casually clad foot on the expensive wood. "Glad to do this little thing for you, Pop. Glad to do it."

B. G. of 1948 mused a moment and scratched furtively at its chin. "Where to begin? Where to begin?"

"Let's start it this way. We came to this college starting about the year 1938 with a few of the people in this group, added a few more in the following years until the great year of 1944 when the bulk of the class dropped in on the college. Of course, more came in from time to time, some dropping in as late as 1946.

"Of course you realize that the reason that some of the students started so early and finished so late was that there was a recess for some of them lasting for four or five years. But while they were away the class at home had their hands full. You see, the Navy had occupation forces at Bethany. Ah yes, when the Navy was at Bethany. But that story belongs to another type of history.

"We're really a hardy lot, Judge, for so many of us to stick through thick and thin for all these years. We took every subject the college had to offer and then even added some extra ones that the college didn't offer. There were some students in Our Outdoors 50 who really learned something. This wasn't strictly an upperclass course or a lower class course, nor did the class of 1948 initiate it, but we did do our bit to bring it up to date."

"Our class comes from many different states and localities. West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey are our strongholds, but other states are represented also. There's Indiana, California, Missouri, (the president's home town, no less), Ohio, Michigan, Connecticut, and several foreign countries as the Canal Zone, Ontario, Staten Island, and Brooklyn. And some of the towns that we come from! Did you ever hear of Eighty-four, or Red Cloud, Ashtabula, Confluence, Wanamassa, Elyria, Great Neck, Rudolph, Leonia, Ben's Run, Rahway, Short Hills, Linthicum Heights, Secausus, Tenafly and Independence?"

"And as for race or sex, as I said, you can just about take your pick. We graduated students with just about every degree in the books. Bachelor of Arts in just about everything a bachelor would have anything to do with, and a Bachelor of Science in everything a bachelor wouldn't have anything to do with.

"Maybe we didn't add anything concrete to the school other than to help keep it going in its lean years and then to give a big hand in bringing it back to normal. We saw the change of Bethany from a war-time school to a peace-time school, and a fairly good one at that. We saw the faculty come and go, the students come and go, but we stayed in there and fought our way to the end. And we have just reached the end."

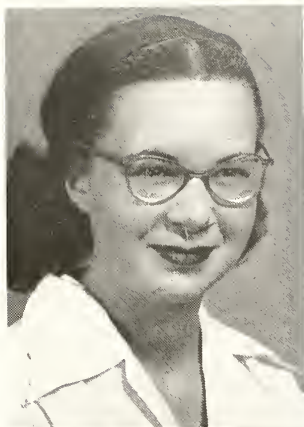

The Judge gazed up in awe at the Bethany Graduate of 1948 perched on the bench, cocky and self-sure now that the first test was proceeding on its way.

"You—you—did all of that?" he asked incredulously.

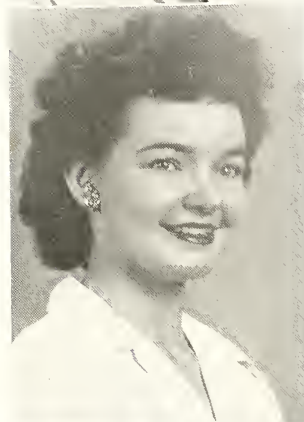

"Oh, that and more too," boasted the Graduate.

"Pass on then Bethany Graduate," ordered the Judge banging the gavel down on the bench. "If you can boast a record like that, you are entitled to join the sixteen million other unemployed college graduates."

College is its Students . . .

Some individual,

Some august, official,

Others out of order, strong, or weak, or both, or neither,
or, perhaps,

But all students capable to

To share the joy of knowledge

And glory

For the joy of knowledge is the joy of life

For the joy of knowledge is the joy of life

For the joy of knowledge is the joy of life

Undergraduates

THE UNDERGRADUATES

Bethany has entered a new era in its history, just as has the world. The undergraduates are an integral part of both. Some have made history at Normandy, Okinawa, and Cassino; all have been stirred by the importance of the times.

Bethany is building and changing to meet the demands of progress. The students are more world-wise, and minded of the complexity of the problems and advancements of the day. This trend has marked student endeavor with new accomplishment.

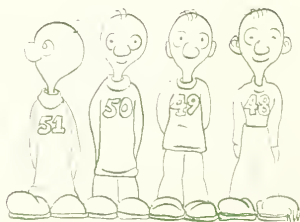

College spirit is higher than ever before. New life has been injected into all student organizations, a host of new clubs and activities have been founded and fitted into the extra-curricular scheme. Glance at the headlines of the Tower. "Students Plan Road Map of Higher Education—Frosh Rule Returns—Plan First Yearbook Since 1939—Photo Club Founded, Fits Out Lab—Swing Band Reorganized—Biggest Interfraternity Sports Program in Years—New Campus Radio Station Opens—S.B.O.G. Constitution Drawn Up—Melhado Elected—Students Demand Athletic Action—Young Republicans Club Formed—"

These are but a few of the examples of greater student interest in their college and themselves, but highly representative of the tenor of their thoughts and actions. Many years will "roll" before Bethany will boast of a more outstanding trio of undergraduate classes.

DEAN FORREST H. KIRKPATRICK

—deserves the full credit for giving the 1948 Bethanian its theme and main topic, and for supplying the question which we seek to answer in this annual, What is College?

At a Chapel Program presented about two years ago, Dean Kirkpatrick very aptly answered that question with the poem, part of which you have read, and will be reading, on the pages of this book.

Throughout the years the questions of college—What it is? What does it mean? What is its value?—have oftentimes gone unanswered in the minds of many of our Bethany Students.

With that thought in mind, and with the aid of Dean Kirkpatrick's poem, an attempt has been made to answer the questions. In the words of his poem and in the pictures of you, may you find your own reply.

College Is Pep Rallies and Football Games . . .

*Crisp frozen afternoons,
Marching bands
And cheerleaders splashing their green and white
Against the hills and hues in October;
Shouts and touchdowns and wild cheering,
Always rooting, always hopeful,
For it is our team!
Occasionally—a victory is won . . .*

ATHLETICS . . . 1947-'48

During the interval of the 1947-48 sports seasons the upswing of the athletic programs, varsity and intramural, has continued unabated after the war-time slump. With what now appears to be a more aggressive policy of varsity athletics and a more comprehensive schedule of intramural sports, added to the improved facilities which will result with the completion of Rine Field and the new Field House, the upward trend can be expected to continue to greater heights next year.

Varsity teams of football, baseball, tennis, basketball, and cross-country were entered into competition, with more or less success, details of which will be covered on the following pages. Tabulation of the complete record of varsity wins and losses in all sports gives the teams an overall .500 average.

Edging into the varsity-ball picture was an increased student interest in improving the teams, the quality of the conditions under which they played, and the support given them by the students-at-large.

Inter-fraternity and sorority sports gathered new interest and importance with the addition of ping-pong, hand-ball, and track, to an already fine men's schedule including touch football, basketball, volleyball, softball, golf, and swimming. The program, operating under the Inter-fraternity Council of Athletic Managers, is regulated according to a point system which will tabulate the winner of the sport's trophy at the end of the year. Beta Theta Pi won the honor in June of 1947.

Sorority sports included softball, volleyball, badminton, bowling, ping-pong, and basketball on an inter-sorority basis. The Women's Athletic Association further sponsors events of an athletic nature for women in cooperation with the Department of Physical Education.

Coach John Knight, head of the Athletic Department, is assisted by Don Phillips, head football coach, William Hanna, assistant football coach, Elizabeth Reed, and Donna Shaver, who are in charge of women's athletics.

The Green Wave jumped off to a good start against the vaunted Dan Towler and Co., from Washington and Jefferson. Deacon Dan was the factor which decided the one-touchdown loss. The remainder of the season included two drubbings at the hands of Geneva and the University of Buffalo, and a string of heart-breaking losses to inferior teams who capitalized on an inconsistent Bethany pass defense—with the exception of the game with the Wildcats of W. Va. W. who got a break on a punt in the mud at Wellsburg.

The team was good with an iron line which only had real trouble with Deacon Dan, and Middleslead of Buffalo. Jim Collins and his back-field mates used the line power well in using their speed to make phenomenal ground-gains.

Everyone has a different idea about the reasons for the poor record in the win column—but harassing injuries and the absence of a consistent passing attack and defense were probably the differences between a very successful season and the one that occurred.

BASKE

The most memorable event of the 1948 basketball season was the triple-overtime period game which the Bisons dropped to Davis and Elkins, 105-103, on Feb. 7 in Irvin Gymnasium. The game provided innumerable thrills and tense moments as the two teams battled it out. Few who saw the game will forget the number of times the lead changed hands, the terrific scoring of Martin and Me-whirter, and the desperate struggle the team made in the last overtime to almost reach another tie. The game attracted nation-wide attention since it was one of the highest scoring games of the intercollegiate season.

On the basis of the 1947 season, we all expected better results than were derived in the past campaign. We had the same team back, with the exception of Marty until the Carnegie Tech game. But breaks as well as the opposition were against us, and the same team which tallied seventeen points in the final two minutes to defeat Marietta was unable to hold a better than twenty-point first period lead against Westminster.

The ball flies high over the players' heads as the teams fight for control of the ball during the fourth quarter of the D & E-Bethany score-fest.

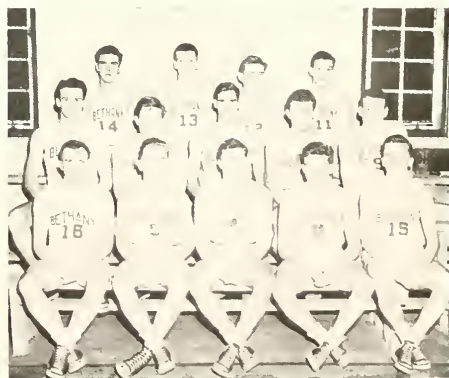

TBALL

Lost from this year's team are Crawford "Hoppy" Cameron, who finished in January, Captain Bill Dumbaugh, Hank Brown, and Perry Bowden, who was forced out in midseason due to a heart condition. So went the fortunes of a team which advanced to the semi-finals of the W. Va. Conference tournament by virtue of an upset victory over Fairmont, the season champs. Marty Martin broke his own scoring record of 39 points in one game which he set last year, by swishing in 43 points in the wild game against D & E.

CROSS COUNTRY

With Cross-Country competition returning this year for the first time since the war, Bethany fielded a team which took three of the four meets it engaged in, and showed well against the best squads in the area in the AAU run at Schenley Park, Pittsburgh, of 4.5 miles.

In the latter run the Bethany Harriers, though they had never run the course before, compared more than favorably with the other competitors. LaTourette was eighth, Dick, fourteenth; Hite, twenty-fifth; Liedke, twenty-ninth; Huhn, thirty-fourth; and Captain Hank Brown, thirty-ninth.

During the regular season the following results were tabbed:

Bethany 26	Mount Union 29 (2 mile course)
Bethany 29	Westminster 26 (5.75 miles)
Bethany 22	Geneva 33 (4.1 miles)
Bethany 22	Mount Union 33 (4.1 miles)

TENNIS

In 1947 Bethany fielded a tennis squad which participated in four matches out of a schedule which originally called for eight contests. The weather in this area was such that several colleges cancelled their matches and did not even have teams. With what little practice the requesters could hold and the scarcity of materials at hand, the Bisons managed to play four contests.

Of the games played, two were with Fairmont State Teachers College, and the remainder contested against California State Teachers College. In the former the team won the first series at Fairmont by 5-2. The second group held at Bethany was 4-2 in favor of the Bisons when the rains washed out the finish of the match. The Fairmont coach conceded the match.

The squad fared worse against California, dropping the opening round 7-2 at California, and having the second round rained out.

BASEBALL

With rain erasing some games from their schedule in the spring of 1947, the Bethany diamond-nine nevertheless garnered a favorable record of 5 won, 4 lost. In Ken, "Hook" Lawrence, one of the best southpaws to appear on the Bethany mound in some years, was found the main-stay of the pitching staff. The potent bats of Hoppie Cameron, Phil Silcock, Earl Roper, Bill Makris, and Pat Santarelli were tough on opposing moundsmen, making a combination of pitching and hitting that made Bethany difficult to beat.

Lawrence won all five games, against a losing record on two, compiling an earned-run average of 2.54 which is extra-fine in collegiate ball. He pitched 59 innings, gave 56 hits, struck out 50, and only walked 17. These figures do not include the last W & J game.

VARSITY "B" CLUB

The Varsity "B" Club, the instigator of "Frosh Rule" this year, started only a few years before the war and inactive during the war, is stirring to new activity.

The purpose of the club is to provide athletic scholarships for the major sports, to better athletic conditions, and to bring together some of the men on the varsity teams.

In order to become a club-member, a student must do more than just win his letter. He must also be approved by the Athletic Board and then be voted in by the entire club after he has undergone an initiation period.

All women students are eligible for this organization. The W.A.A. cooperates with the Department of Physical Education for women in the promotion of physical efficiency, good sportsmanship, and athletic accomplishments. Intra-mural sports in softball, volleyball, basketball, and swimming are sponsored by the group, as are tournaments in ping-pong and tennis. In May of each year the W.A.A. has a play day for the surrounding High Schools.

Speakers, films, business, and activities comprise the regular monthly meetings. At the end of the year a banquet is held where awards are made to the outstanding athletes who have earned 400 points in events. There are twenty-five active members in the Women's Athletic Association.

THE YEAR'S HIGHLIGHTS UNPICTURED

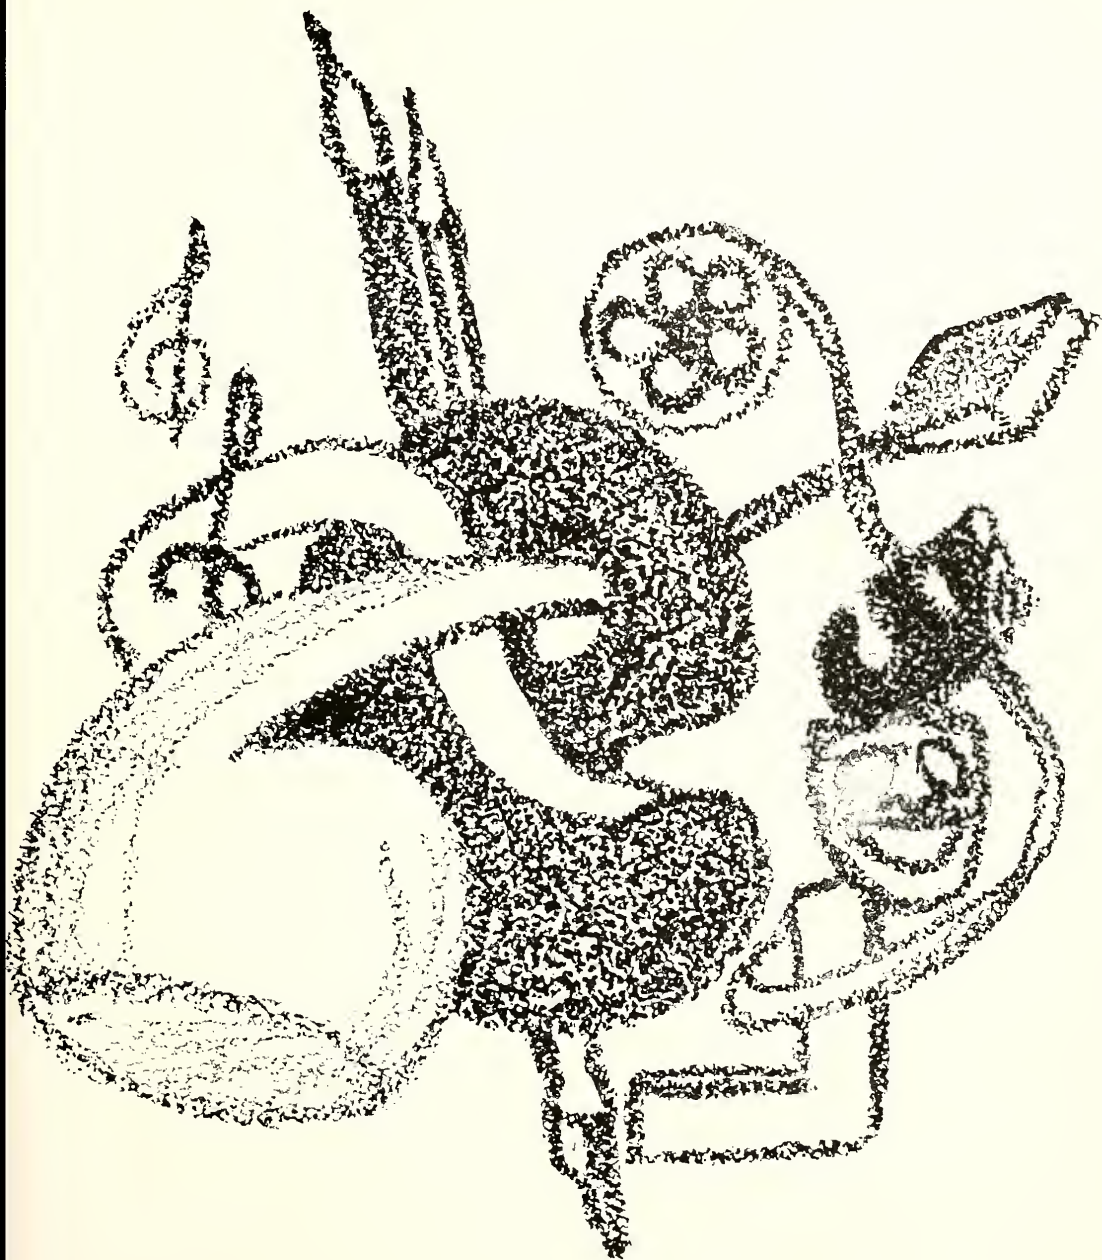

A college year is never inactive, nor does a day at college go by without some memorable event taking place on or near the campus. As a result it is almost impossible for a college annual to give each and every happening the pictorial coverage it deserves. However, several of the outstanding college events that have not been recorded by the camera, should be mentioned if only to record for the sake of permanence their significance, and contribution to the life at Bethany during the academic year 1947-48.

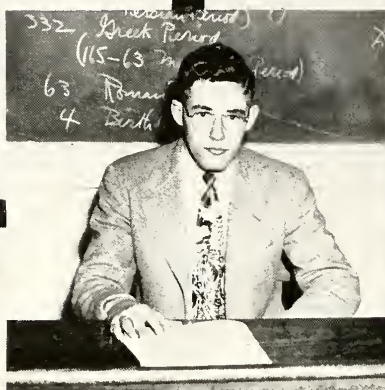

Listed below are some of the unpictured highlights of this year:

- October 8th—Freshmen rule instituted for first time in six years. Varsity "B" held responsible for damages.
- October 31st—All-college Halloween parade presented. Winning groups were picked for most unique idea. The Kappa Deltas and Sigma Nu's won the first and second prizes respectively.
- November 11th—Melhado elected to the presidency of the Student Board of Governors.
- November 13th—Students at mass-meeting demand Administration take action to better equipment of football team. Jim Angelis and Julian Melhado present plans for action.
- November 15th—Beverly Maynard chosen as Homecoming Queen. Jo Smith and Ellie Stanton act as attendants.
- November 21st—Cochran Hall freshmen ordered home for a week by the State Health Dept. because of illness of Henry Wrublewski.
- December 13th—Faculty looks silly in annual play given before annual Christmas recess.
- February 3rd—New Bee-Hive opened for business.
- February 27th—Theta Phi Delta disbands because of lack of student interest, low numbers.
- March 5th—Bethany Honor Society founded from nucleus of former Leadership Club. Called Kalon, organization is still in formative stage.
- April 15th—Career Conference is held under the direction of Mrs. McGahey, Donald Mulgrew and June Morris.
- May 15th—The "Bethanian of 1948" goes to press.

That go hand in hand with academics
In training the minds of the students to reality,
That a successful life is derived
From organization and cooperation.

Toward the portals of maturity.

A cluster of ideals, courage and hope,
And fear of fulfillment,
And looking forward and looking back.*

STUDENT BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Intensified student interest in campus affairs was mirrored during 1947-48 in a complete shake-up in the Student Board of Governors, top legislative body of the student group. Under President Pro-tem Bill Nottingham a new constitution was drawn up and approved by a committee of William Kennedy and Turk Bierau assisted by Bill Bonville. Radical changes in the new constitution were provisions for popular election of the board president, elimination of the Student Board of Publications in favor of Pi Delta Epsilon, and the election of S.B.O.G. representatives from their respective social groups both by individual group vote and sanction of the student body by popular vote. Committees were strengthened in a move to promote smoother executive functioning and better faculty-student, administration-student relations.

President Julian Melhado became the first popularly elected officer in the school's history, edging nominee Donald Mulgrew in the November elections. Bill Nottingham was elected vice-president; Key Grizzell, treasurer; and Peg Strehan, secretary, in board votes.

Aside from normal functioning problems of the group, advances were made in varied directions towards greater co-ordination between faculty and student thought and the raising of the level of the academic standard to new highs.

John Clopine headed a committee which investigated the worth and opportunities of the academic curricula, and turned in a report which both criticized and complemented the present setup. Attempts to chart student feeling on instituting an honor system here, and to suggest an operational plan for the system, were made by another committee headed by Bob Boyd. Athletics, the operation of the new student union, faculty-relations, and an investigation of the dining rooms were other projects covered by the board's committees.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Charged with the responsibility of rounding out the all-college schedule of social events and arranging them for presentation, the Social Committee is one of the harder working organizations on campus. Harry Broberg is Chairman of the group, and Miss Audrey Parker is faculty advisor. Members are elected to the committee by the various social-groups which they represent.

ASSOCIATION OF WOMEN STUDENTS

At a meeting of the A.W.S. Executive Board are faculty advisor, Audrey Parker, Turk Bierau, Vice-President June Morris, Secretary Sally Schreiber, Betty Jane Wester, Rose Imburgia, Carolyn Hall, Ruth Haerring, and Betty Metz. President Violet Karavanic and Treasurer Ann Delano were not present when the picture was taken.

This organization includes in its membership all the women students enrolled in the college. A representative from each women's residence with the officers of the association comprise the executive board. It is the duty of A.W.S. to give expression to the opinion of women students, to bring about a greater spirit of unity and mutual helpfulness among women students, to provide an opportunity for all women of the college to meet outstanding visitors on campus, and to help each individual to achieve maximum personal development.

THE BETHANY TOWER

Continuing in its second year of publication, the Tower expanded to six pages for most of its issues due to an extended advertising campaign engineered by Advertising Manager Paul Flanagan. Co-Editors-In-Chief Jean Pinney and Helen Pratt took charge of the paper during the fall semester, aided by a staff headed by Managing Editor Gene Winski.

With the graduation of Miss Pinney in February, Helen Pratt stayed on as E-In-C, while Jack Gruble replaced Gene Winski who transferred to the Bethany College Public Relations Office.

The Bethany College Music Department, now boasting the services of four fine instructors, is building plans for more extensive and better programs in music.

Dr. Von Ende, head of the department, reports the choir and chorus have expanded considerably since last year, with the new freshmen class adding some fine voices and a distinct quality to the groups.

The Band and Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Rushworth, have surpassed in quality and numbers any group of musicians to be assembled by Bethany College in many years.

All this has resulted in a greater student interest in musical work and studies which is reflected in a jump of enrollment in departmental courses from 100 last year to 400 this year.

Concert trips were carried out by all groups during the past semester, adding much to the reputation of the department, the students, and the professors.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Recognizing the need for some campus organization for prospective teachers, Professor Eliassen, head of the Department of Education, cooperated with the students of his department and organized an Education Club in 1938. In 1942 it was affiliated with the Future Teachers of America organization, which is a branch of the National Educational Association of the United States. The local chapter is known as the H. T. McKinney Chapter in honor of a deceased member of the Bethany College faculty.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club has been an active part of the student organizations for some years under the direction of Miss Pearl Mahaffey of the Modern Languages Department. This year the club, besides holding meetings of interest to themselves, have produced their annual play. The title of the play was (freely translated into English) "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife". The play, a comedy, was written by the incomparable Anatole France, and was produced by the club under the direction of Bob Hankey and Miss Mahaffey.

Miss Pearl Mahaffey

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club, under the direction of president Edith Unsworth and faculty advisor Miss Margaret Woods, this year conducted a full schedule of activities. The most outstanding was the annual "Spanish Fiesta" held in Phillips Hall as an all-college social event. The club is intended to aid the student in gaining a finer understanding of Latin-America, Spain, and the Spanish language.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club was organized in 1934 for the purpose of creating and stimulating a better interest and understanding of the language, culture, and customs of the German Race. Professor Earl D. McKenzie of the Modern Languages Department is the faculty advisor.

During the year the club conducted various activities and meetings, the most prominent of which was the annual Rathskeller held in Phillips Hall in April, bringing the atmosphere of Continental Germany to Bethany's campus.

During the absence of Prof. McKenzie, Miss Margaret Parry has taken the post of faculty advisor.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

This organization has now been on Bethany's campus for five years. Dr. Andrew Leitch is the faculty advisor, and Micky Radulovic is president. During the year they have conducted meetings which have featured guest speakers and movies on experiments in the field of psychology.

The club is open to anyone interested in psychology, and meetings are often discussion sessions dealing with topics of current interest in the field or material not covered in the curriculum.

The Chemical Club was reorganized this year under Dr. Brown, head of the Chemistry Department, and Dorothy Loncasty, and affiliated with the American Chemical Society as the Bethany Chapter of Student Affiliates.

Club members must be chemistry majors having at least eight hours of chemistry to their credit. The planning committee of Ralph Perrin, Robert Halley, and Robert Brown, and the social committee under Ethel Montiegal, take charge of all club events and the regular meetings. The purpose of the club, briefly, is to promote an interest in chemistry from a non-technical point of view, over and above the scientific attitude developed in laboratories and lectures.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Student Christian Association was formed last year as an affiliate with the Student Christian Movement which is active on campuses throughout the country. Its purposes are to make religious life more meaningful to students, to bring about inter-denominational co-operation, and to promote the Christian spirit among all religions. The Association is divided into four commissions: (1) Christian Heritage, dealing with the question of principles; (2) Social Services; (3) Personalities of the Individuals, dealing with the problems of building Christian lives; and (4) World Outlook, dealing with the problems of Christian relationships. At present there are about 175 members in the organization.

The "three moo's" was organized in 1923 as an honorary pep organization for the purpose of maintaining college spirit and improving student morale. With their activity clothed in darkest secrecy, the Bulls of Moo select their calves and train them in the obscure ways of keeping ever high the name of old Bethany. Their Clan has heavy cream as its color. Their flower is the Bull-rush. Their motto—"We're pulling for you." Official cermonial garb is an old dilapidated hat and bathrobe, complete with udderly decorated Moo signs, and a rope about the neck tied with a hangman's knot.

and Vladimir Lauko.

One of the most interesting groups on the Bethany Campus this year are the students from abroad, sometimes classified as foreign exchange students. These students attend Bethany through a foreign exchange fellowship grant provided by the college administration. These fellowships are awarded to students of other nationalities to provide for international exchange of ideas and cultures that only they can give to American students. In turn, these people are able to observe and absorb life and culture in America and will be able to return to their native lands with first-hand knowledge of the "American way".

Five different lands are represented by these students. From Puerto Rico comes Caesar Melecio. Malcolm McGavern hails from India although his original home is in Muncie, Indiana. Reverend Eric White is from Edinburg, Scotland, and left for his home after the Christmas holidays. Simon Marc Monpeurt is from Paris, France, and from Piestany, Czechoslovakia comes young Vladimer Lauko.

The International Relations Club was created to stimulate and encourage an interest among the students in current international problems. The Club is open to anyone concerned with the political, economic, and social conditions of the world.

Locally sponsored by Dr. Chandler Shaw, head of the History Department, this group is one of similar International Clubs promoted and endowed by the Carnegie Institute of International Peace. Through this Institute the club is able to receive periodicals and books for their library, and send representatives to the annual regional conference, which was held this year at West Virginia University. The publishers of Time Magazine also contribute to the organization by sending quarterly current events tests, and offering prizes to the top winners.

The officers for the year 1947-1948 are:

Vice-President	RICHARD TURLEY
Secretary	PATRICIA ALLEN

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

This organization functions for the purpose of enabling students interested in the sociological field to engage in group discussions on timely problems and subjects, to hear outside speakers who are active in the field, and to bring the group together on common ground for informal study of sociology problems. Dr. Erwin Paustian, head of the Sociology Department, is faculty advisor of the group. About forty members take part in the club's activities.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

This organization was instituted early this year through the efforts of Len Miller, Fred Fiederlein, and Bill Bonville, for the purpose of enabling students interested in the technical and practical side of photography to have facilities and an opportunity to work their cameras. With the help of faculty advisor Bradford Tye and Dean Weimer, a lab was fitted out and is now in operation in the basement of Oglebay Hall. Membership is open to all students on a cooperative basis.

NATURE CLUB

The Nature Club, formed in the fall semester of 1947 under the direction of Kenneth Armitage, is off to a good start with twenty members. Its activities for the year included the construction of bird feeding stations, afternoon hikes to observe winter birds in their natural habitats, and trips to Wheeling to see a series of five movies presented by the Outdoor Clubs Committee and the National Audubon Society. In their monthly meetings the club also offers movies or lectures on any subject pertaining to nature.

The Radio Workshop, operating under the call letters WWBN, was introduced onto the campus by Miss Blandina A. Foster, former Speech and Dramatics Instructor. After Miss Foster left, the idea of a campus radio station was not continued until the fall of 1946 when Alvin Singer began experimenting with Army Surplus radio equipment, and revived the idea of installing and operating a local radio station.

Collaborating with David Perry the two have managed to secure special membership with the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System and have practically completed construction of a new transmitter which will use the call letters WWBN.

When completed the station will have a broadcasting schedule that will include programs from 7 to 11 p. m., Monday through Friday. As far as program planning is concerned it will be the policy of station WWBN and the members of the workshop to try and reflect the tastes of the students.

During the year the Inter-Fraternity Council completely reorganized its out-moded constitution in a move to make the group more useful to the welfare of the family of fraternities at Bethany. Under its direction new rushing rules and procedures, athletic schedules and systems, and social events were planned and carried out with a facility for smooth operation that the council had not enjoyed before. Latest among their endeavors is a co-ordination of pledge programs between the various fraternities.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Panhellenic Association is composed of three delegates from each sorority, the president of the sorority and two other delegates chosen by the president. The officers of the Panhellenic Association are rotated among the individual sororities thus giving each sorority an equal chance for the various offices.

All the delegates work together for the good of the college and all its women students. It is their duty to benefit the sororities of the college and to unify the interests of the sorority and non-sorority women. It is they who make the rules governing the rushing of freshmen women. In the previous years tea dances were sponsored by Panhellenic.

The Panhellenic Officers for the year 1947-1948 were:

ALPHA XI DELTA

Alpha Xi Delta was founded at Lombard College, Galesburg, Illinois, on April 17, 1893. Its Delta Chapter was installed at Bethany College on June 6, 1903. The chapter owns its own house on Richardson Avenue, but is now planning to purchase new quarters on Pendleton Avenue. The new house, known as the "Petite Chateau," is now occupied by Prof. Roberts.

During the spring semester the girls got together and really won their wings as interior decorators as they went through their house from top to bottom with liberal application of paint and wall-paper. At their open-house in April the campus was duly impressed by the quality and extent of work done. At present there are 42 members in the Delta Chapter.

PHI MU

Gamma Chi, a local sorority, was founded in December of 1924, and functioned on a local basis until 1932 when it affiliated with Alpha Delta Theta as its Omega Chapter. In 1939 Alpha Delta Theta merged with Phi Mu Sorority and the chapter became Beta Nu of the latter sorority.

At present the chapter occupies the Helwig Hall on Main Street, though under present long-range building plans, a new men's dorm is to be built on that site. Membership in the chapter is 32 at present.

Founded as Upsilon Alpha Epsilon in 1905, the sorority affiliated with Zeta Tau Alpha in the same year, as the Theta Chapter. The national was founded at Virginia State Teachers College on October 15, 1898.

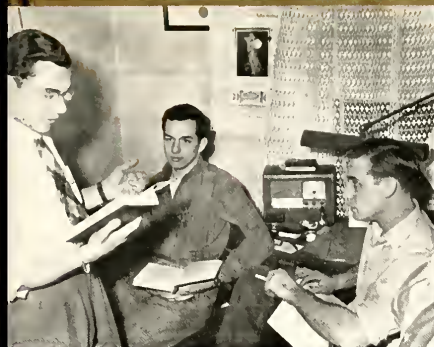

The ZTA flower is the white violet; their badge a shield with a smaller black shield raised upon it; their colors are steel grey and turquoise blue. With a high ideal, their open motto is "Seek the noblest." There are now 52 actives and pledges to the chapter, holding their annual May-time "Stardust Formal," and informal get-togethers including a Pledge Dinner each spring. ALPHA SIGMA PHI Alpha Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi was founded on December 6, 1845 at Yale University. Beta Gamma Chapter, at Bethany, was installed on March 30, 1947, after being first a local, Alpha Pi Alpha, from 1925-29, and then Lambda Chapter of Alpha Kappa Pi until that fraternity merged with Alpha Sigma Phi in September of 1946. Alpha Sigma Phi has 73 chapters from coast to coast, with President Wilbur Cramblet as its Grand Senior President.

At Bethany the Chapter has expanded to 58 members since it was re-activated in the fall of 1946 after war-time dormancy. With a full season of social events including informal parties and weiner roasts, the real high-lite was the "Sweetheart Formal" held May-day night at the Fort Steuben Hotel Ballroom, in Steubenville.

BETA THETA PI

Psi Chapter of Beta Theta Pi, the oldest and one of the strongest fraternal chapters on Bethany's campus was founded on December 9, 1860. The Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Pi was founded at Miami University in the summer of 1839. It is known as one of the famous Miami Triad. The fraternity now has 93 active chapters throughout the nation.

During the post-war years the Betas have taken the scholarship honors among fraternities at Bethany every semester, and in 1946-47, by sweeping the football, basketball, volleyball, and softball competitions, walked away with the Interfraternity sports trophy. To date, this year, they have captured the basketball championship and are tied with the Alpha Sigs as winners of the volleyball tourney.

Midnight maneuver.

The Alpha Chapter of the Order of Kappa Alpha was founded at Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia, on December 21, 1865. With over thirty-thousand past and present members, the Order maintains sixty-five active chapters and sixty-four alumni chapters. In ideals and organization it has close kinship to General Robert E. Lee, who set forth the ideals which live through the fraternity.

In 1903 Beta Beta Chapter was established at Bethany from a local fraternity, becoming the northernmost chapter of the Order.

PHI KAPPA TAU

Alpha Chapter of Phi Kappa Tau was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, on March 17, 1906. After its founding, a period of rapid expansion followed until at present there are fifty active chapters who have initiated over fourteen-thousand men. Phi Kappa Tau is the fourth of five national fraternities founded at Miami. Phi Chapter on Bethany's campus was formed from a well known organization called the Rechibite Club which was first organized as an eating club at "Mom Richardson's." NU

Sigma Nu was founded at the Virginia Military Institute in the year 1869. Epsilon Chapter of Sigma Nu was founded at Bethany in 1883. The chapter, fifth to be chartered in the national fraternity, has had several difficult periods in expansion. Twice forced into sub-rosa activity, it emerged stronger each time. With a past and present membership of over 38,000 men, the fraternity maintains active chapters in forty-six of the forty-eight states of the nation. Their fraternity song, "The White Star of Sigma Nu," is perhaps the best known fraternity song in the United States.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

A chapter of Alpha Psi Omega National Dramatics Fraternity was founded at Bethany College in 1928 as the Beta Gamma Chapter. It was formed from a dramatics club organized in May of 1927, known as the "Merry Masquers."

Alpha Psi became inactive here from 1929 through May 31st, 1932. At that time a few of the actives still attending Bethany reformed the chapter.

Later that same year, on October 10, a junior organization, called the Bethespian (from a name contributed by Charlotte Rich), was organized. The practise of having potential members of Alpha Psi work with the Bethespian for 200 hours of stage work was then begun. In recent years the junior group has been better known as the Theatre Guild.

The purpose of Alpha Psi Omega has been to organize College students into a body for developing the theatre in college life, and for furthering the ideas and talents of the non-professional collegiate individuals who have a sincere interest in the department of dramatics.

The Bethany College Chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, National Journalism Fraternity, was formed here in May of 1947 from a group known as the Bethany Tower Guild of Student Journalists. The fraternity was formed to better the quality of the student publications by providing a continuity of directorship under students who had proved themselves capable in working with the campus publications. Under the S.B.O.G. Constitution the group is given a nominally free hand in supervising the publications and appointing their staffs, with the top positions subject to S.B.O.G. approval.

Through the work of the members of this organization the "Bethany Tower" was founded, and publication of the "Bethanian" resumed.

College is Classes . . .

*Shivering and sleepy treks
Across the campus in the early winter darkness;*

*Quaking students, nervous students,
Those who are bored, challenged,
Fired with purpose, discouraged,
Proud of an A,*

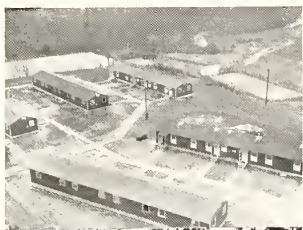

*Dampened by a D;
A college is term papers and chemistry labs,*

*Play rehearsals and choir,
Checking out library books
And burning midnight oil . . .*

BETHANY
Bethany College established here in 1840, oldest school of college rank in State.
The home and the study of Alexander Campbell founder, are here. Prof. A. E. Dolbear here perfected parts of the telephone, which Bell used.

A college goes on forever . . .

*Not in microscopes or maps,
Not on play fields or in seminars,
Or even in the hush of tall maples
And Gothic towers;
But in the able minds of its graduates
That hold for the future
The experiences they learned from it in the past;
Experiences that insure for him or her
A rightful place in this modern industrial world,
And for some in the backbone enterprise of industry—steel.*

The college student today steps forth to meet a world filled with both challenge and opportunity.

The opportunity lies in the fact that with the expansion of American industry, the need for men and women capable of assuming the responsibility of leadership becomes more acute.

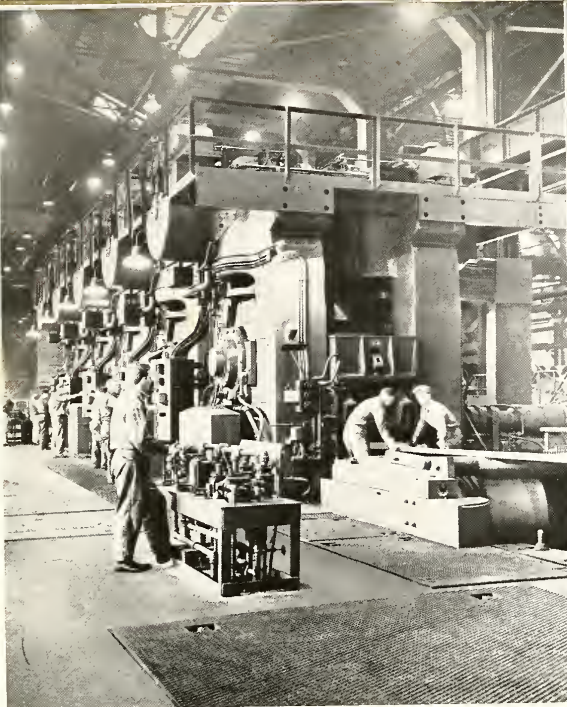

Accompanying this opportunity is the responsibility of meeting the challenge of maintaining the American way of life. It is a challenge that will call for supreme effort and wisdom; for never before has America had so much at stake.

None of you have ever faced a more important decision than your choice of life work. This decision you alone must make. Remember that you have the mental equipment and the training to become outstanding in your chosen field.

The following pages are dedicated to the Weirton Steel Company, a respected leader in the steel industry. These pictures will help to show you the part college graduates can play in American industry today.

FINISH

In Appreciation

When one attempts to produce a college annual with little or no experience upon which to rely, one encounters many difficulties and details which can be overcome only with the assistance of a small group of people who unselfishly give their time and technical talents in a sincere effort to produce the best book possible. It is these sort of individuals that we wish to publicly express our grateful thanks for their invaluable assistance at a time when we needed it most.

For the fine help in the printing of The Bethanian we are indebted to Mr. Lee Murphy of King-Murphy Press in Greensburg, Pennsylvania. Our sincere thanks especially go to Mr. Charles Sprankle of the Robert Rawsthorne Company for his immeasurable aid in managing (with great success) our engraving problem.

Our photographic work came from several sources. Perhaps the greatest contribution came from Donald Mulgrew, who ably pinch-hitted for us at the last moment and solved our photographic problems in less than five weeks. Glen Miller, Paul Rhodes, and Ted Camp also contributed several photographs to this year's annual.

Finally, we must give grateful thanks to our very generous advertisers and especially to Mr. Thomas E. Millsop, President of the Weirton Steel Company whose welcomed contribution made it possible for us to add many extra pages and features to this book.

Our sincere thanks to all you people. The Bethanian of 1948 owes much to you.

BETHANY COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

*"Though 'round the girdled earth they roam,
Her spell on them remains."*

- Student years are rich years. Student years at Bethany College are priceless years.
- The contribution that Alma Mater makes does not end with graduation. Through the Alumni Association a personal relationship is maintained between the college and its graduates.
- Through the Alumni Association an opportunity is presented to serve the college in its educational program.
- Through the Alumni Association an opportunity is presented to maintain old friendships and to create many new ones.
- The Alumni issue of the college bulletin will keep you in touch with alumni activities as well as campus news.
- Keep the Alumni Secretary advised of your changes of address, new positions, and other information that will be of interest to your friends.
